Purpose

This guide walks new employees and their managers through the TechNova Pvt. Ltd. onboarding journey, from offer acceptance through the first 90 days. It is designed to help new joiners become productive quickly while feeling welcomed and supported.

Before Day One (Pre-Onboarding)

Owner	Action
HR	Send the offer letter, background verification consent form, and joining checklist.
HR	Collect documents (ID proof, address proof, education certificates, previous employment documents, bank details).
IT	Provision the employee’s SSO account, email, and prepare the laptop for issue.
Manager	Assign a Buddy from the team and share a first-week plan with the new joiner.
Admin	Prepare the workstation/desk and access card for the joining date.

Day One

- Report to reception at the assigned office by 9:30 AM; the Buddy or HR representative will greet the new joiner.
- Complete ID and document verification, and collect the access card and laptop from Admin/IT.
- Attend the Welcome Session run by HR, covering Company overview, values, and key policies.
- Set up core accounts (email, Slack, HR Portal) with IT support at the welcome desk.
- Meet the manager and team for an introduction and a walkthrough of the first-week plan.

Week One

Day	Focus
Day 1	Welcome session, document verification, account setup, team introduction.

Day	Focus
Day 2	Policy walkthrough (Leave, WFH, IT, Security, Expense) and mandatory security-awareness training.
Day 3–4	Role-specific onboarding: tools, systems access, product/domain overview sessions led by the manager or Buddy.
Day 5	Check-in with manager: questions so far, initial goals for the first month, HR onboarding survey.

Mandatory Training in the First Two Weeks

- Company overview and Code of Conduct (Employee Handbook).
- Security awareness and phishing simulation basics (Security Policy).
- POSH awareness (Prevention of Sexual Harassment) training, mandatory for all employees.
- Role-specific compliance training where applicable (e.g., data-handling training for roles with customer data access).

Completion of mandatory training is tracked on the HR Portal under "Learning → My Courses" and is a condition of successful confirmation at the end of probation.

The Buddy Programme

Every new joiner is paired with a Buddy — a peer from the same team, not their manager — for the first 90 days. The Buddy helps with day-to-day questions (tools, team norms, "who do I ask about X"), introduces the new joiner to colleagues, and checks in informally at least once a week during the first month.

First 30 Days

- Complete all mandatory training listed above.
- Set up initial 30-60-90 day goals with the manager, aligned to the role's expectations.
- Complete access provisioning for all role-specific systems (see IT Policy for the access request process if anything is missing).
- Attend the next scheduled Company All-Hands to get a sense of the broader business.
- HR conducts a 30-day check-in survey to catch any onboarding gaps early.

First 90 Days

- Continue working toward 30-60-90 day goals, with regular 1:1s with the manager.
- Complete the probation review process (see below), including a self-assessment and manager feedback.
- Take ownership of a defined piece of work or project, appropriate to the role and level.
- Build working relationships across the team and, where relevant, with key stakeholders in other teams.

Probation and Confirmation

The standard probation period is 6 months from the date of joining, as set out in the Employee Handbook. Around the 5-month mark, the manager completes a Probation Review on the HR Portal, covering performance against goals, conduct, and completion of mandatory training. Based on this review, HR issues either a Confirmation Letter or, in exceptional cases, an extension of probation with clear improvement expectations, communicated to the employee in writing.

Setting Up Payroll and Benefits

- Submit bank account details and PF nomination via the HR Portal within the first week.
- Health insurance enrolment (self and, optionally, dependents) opens automatically at onboarding; complete it within 15 days of joining — see the Benefits Guide for coverage details.
- Salary is credited from the joining month, pro-rated for the number of days worked if joining mid-month.

Manager Onboarding Responsibilities

- Confirm the role's system access and equipment needs with IT/Admin at least 5 working days before the joining date.
- Assign a Buddy and share the first-week plan with the new joiner before Day One.
- Hold a 1:1 with the new joiner at the end of Week 1, and weekly for the first month.
- Set clear 30-60-90 day goals by the end of the second week.
- Complete the Probation Review on time (around the 5-month mark) and give the new joiner honest, constructive feedback throughout, not just at the review.

Onboarding for Remote and Hybrid Joiners

New joiners based outside the four office cities, or hired into an approved fully remote role, follow the same Week 1 curriculum through virtual sessions. IT couriers the laptop and any equipment to arrive before Day One, and the Welcome Session and policy walkthroughs are run over video call. Where possible, new remote joiners are encouraged to visit an office within their first 90 days to meet the team in person; Travel Policy provisions apply if this involves travel.

Cultural Orientation

Beyond process and tools, the first weeks are an opportunity to understand how TechNova works day to day: how decisions get made, how feedback is given, and what "good" looks like for the role. New joiners are encouraged to ask questions freely — of their manager, Buddy, or teammates — and to review the Company values described in the Employee Handbook as a guide to how work gets done at TechNova.

Frequently Asked Questions

Question	Answer
What if my laptop is not ready on Day One?	A loaner device is provided by IT while your assigned laptop is prepared; this is uncommon but can happen for high-spec configurations.
When do I get access to all my team's systems?	Core access is provisioned before Day One; role-specific access is typically completed within the first week via the IT access request process.
What happens at the end of probation?	Your manager completes a Probation Review around month 5, and HR issues a Confirmation Letter if performance and conduct expectations have been met.
Who do I ask if I am unsure about something?	Start with your Buddy for day-to-day questions, or your manager for role and goal-related questions.
